Name: Olivia Henderson	Name of Unit: "Cinderella: A Dynamic Transformation"	Date: July 29, 2013	Grade Level: 3rd (Language)
Objective	Procedures	Materials	Evaluation
CCSS L.3.2.C Use commas and quotation marks in dialogue	Introduction: 1. In a good story, like in real life, characters should talk, but not too much! What a character says should fit his or her personality. For example, a smart character should use "big words." A shy character would say less than an outgoing one. A bully would not say nice things. You get the idea! 2. Inform students on the objective for the day and give its importance. Teaching Procedures: 1. TTW • Define quotation marks and commas • Use the overhead project to demonstrate how to use the comma, quotation mark, and proper capitalization. • Give examples if needed. Reteach: 1. TTW: • Provide students with sentence strips that have incorrect punctuation and capitalization errors. TSW: • Select a sentence strip • Tape it to the board and read it aloud. • Use a dry-erase marker to correct the errors on the sentence strip. • Have the student to explain the changes that were made. • Continue this activity until student(s) show understanding. Enrichment:	Overhead projector transparency Sentence strips Sentence strips Tape White board Dry-erase markers Story Booklet (teacher-made) Paper Crayon, markers, pencils,	Oral evaluation Written evaluation Teacher Observation

		1. TTW: - Provide directions and materials (Story Booklet) for the enrichment activity - Make sure that students understand the rules and their activity. - Inform students that they will compose their own "Cinderella" story. Encourage creativity with characters and events.
