

RESOURCES AND FACILITIES

The Department of Business Administration has a rich pool of human and physical resources, facilities, and computer laboratories to provide a stimulating business training environment. The key to those resources is the knowledgeable and dedicated faculty members who are committed to providing quality instruction to students.

Housed in the newly constructed Business Education Building, the Department of Business Administration has six classrooms that seat 50 students and 75 student classrooms, two computer labs with seating for 40 students, a 150-tiered presentation room, an office administration lab, a reading room, student lounge, workrooms, and faculty and administrative offices.
